

Head of the Research and Production Center for Biology, Geoecology and Arid Forage Production of Atyrau University named after Kh. Williams, Moscow), Academician of the Russian Academy of Sciences, Doctor of Agricultural Sciences, Professor Kosolapov Vladimir Mikhailovich held a meeting on the basis of the Research Institute to discuss the prospects for cooperation in the scientific field.

The director opened the meeting. He spoke about the history and main areas of research that the research institute is actively developing, gave examples of existing partnerships with universities around the world and emphasized the importance of cooperation with Kazakhstani colleagues.

